community health for all

community health resources created the community health way

Imagine we are all authors of the most comprehensive textbook on community health in India.

Imagine if this content is created collaboratively and is accessible to more people than ever before.

Web 2.0 makes this possible. communityhealth.in is one such beginning.

Come join us for coffee and conversation on how we can put community health in India on the web.

- What: Informal brainstorming on online collaborative community health information resources
- When: 12.45 pm to 1.15 pm on Wednesday, 17th November 2010
